ABOUT STACKHAWK

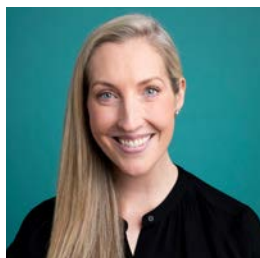

Founded in 2019, StackHawk is a software-as-a-service (SaaS) startup in Denver, CO, empowering engineers to easily find and fix application security bugs at any stage of the CI/CD pipeline.

We believe that application security belongs in the hands of the engineers who write code. It should be automated within current workflows, simplifying the process of building secure software.

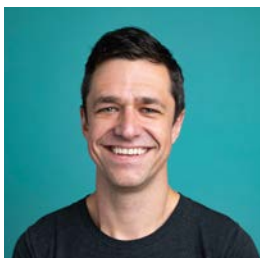

STACKHAWK LEADERSHIP

With decades of combined experience in security and DevOps, our team knows what it takes to build great dev tools.
